

A rustic bar constructed from dark-stained wooden pallets is the central focus. The bar is topped with a black surface and holds various items: a menu card, a large glass pitcher filled with orange slices and liquid, a silver teapot, and other bar accessories. To the left, a wooden pallet structure serves as a shelving unit for bottles of Martini, Aperol, and wine. To the right, more pallets are stacked on the ground. The bar is situated on a paved patio under a white canopy with sheer curtains, overlooking a green lawn and trees.
